GONE BUT NOT FORGOTTEN

I'm sitting here just reminiscing over my life and all the precious people who have come and gone out of it by death. I'm missing some things in my life that I will never forget, because they were and are still so precious to me. Just like diamonds are forever, good memories are too.

This article is for fathers, mothers, sons, daughters, sisters, brothers, who have lost a loved one to death. Some people might say "It doesn't really matter how our loved ones leave this world or die, because death is just death, but it does. There are tragic, horrific and mysterious deaths, and then there are what we call peaceful deaths. When you come down to the fact of the matter, we all must leave this physical body one day sooner or later. Many of our loved ones have gone on before us, but we have this ray of hope that keeps us. II Corinthians 5:1 Says: For we know if our earthly house of this tabernacle be dissolved, we have a building of God an house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens. We miss their physical presence and want to reach out and touch them and show them love. We must know in our hearts that God loved them first and way more than we can ever imagine. John 3:16 Says: For God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life. I can honestly say, we can't bring loved ones back to this earth, and if we could, we wouldn't want them to suffer the things that some of us who are left behind will have to endure. Let us pray: Lord on this day in history, let us learn to cherish those things in life that are so dear to us each day. Let us show our love in deeds and in truth everyday that you allow us to live, because we don't know if today is our last day on earth. Give us the wisdom to know that even though their physical presence is gone, we will always hold onto those precious memories and in our hearts they will never be forgotten. In Jesus Name we pray. Amen.
