Jasper Newsboy article stated we are living in an area of the country that is poised for economic growth—a retirement haven, a vacation destination, an industrial job site potential—bringing these people to Jasper creates jobs and serves to bolster our local economy.

"We would see new construction for homes and businesses, tax dollars for improving our roads, utility systems and most importantly our school system," Street said. "It has been said many times that our children are our future. I certainly believe that to be true. By working together and planning for the future, I am convinced that the brightest days for the children of Jasper and our community are still in front of us."
